Large Program For Education Discussed Here

Two Day Conference Adopts Five Resolutions

An expanded program of higher education was called for in a resolution passed by the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools during a two-day educational conference on the University of Kentucky campus last weekend.

The committee on resolutions, in giving its report, expressed the hope that "scholarships may be made available to all worthy students who otherwise would not get a college education."

Dr. Omer Carmichael, superintendent of Louisville city schools, was elected president of the group to succeed Dr. William Jesse Baird, president of Morehead State Teachers College. Dr. James Boswell, president of Cumberland College, was chosen vice president, and Dr. L. E. Meese, professor of education at the University, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Added to the executive committee in addition to the new officers, were Dr. Earl Moore, Western State Teachers College, chairman of the commission on colleges and universities; Dr. H. L. Davis, Lexington, principal of Lafayette High School, chairman of the commission on secondary schools; Dr. A. L. Lassiter, superintendent of Richmond public schools, and Dean Leland A. Brown, Transylvania College.

Other resolutions adopted by the group called for:

1. A sympathetic appraisal of the needs of schools at all levels by the executive and legislative branches of state government so that Kentucky schools "may rise to and maintain their proper position in the educational pattern of the nation."
2. Recruitment of "competent, well-trained, devoted teachers."
3. Salaries for teachers that will permit them "to enjoy freedom from want and to maintain their proper social and economic positions in the community."
4. Support by Kentucky's senators and representatives in Congress of "legislation to provide federal aid for education in order to assure greater equity in educational opportunities."

All-Campus Sing To Start On Wednesday

Twenty-two campus organizations have entered the annual all-campus sing to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights in Memorial Hall.

Fraternities, sororities, and dormitories have programmed music including musical comedy favorites, classical selections, and organizational songs in this annual event sponsored by Phi Beta, Phi Mu Alpha, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Mortar Board.

Women's preliminaries will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday and will include groups from Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Beta Beta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta, Delta Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Kappa Kappa, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Nu will compete for admission to the finals.

At 7:00 p.m. Thursday, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Nu will compete for admission to the finals.

Five groups for each of the above divisions will be selected to appear in the finals at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The winning group from each division will be awarded a cup which, if won three consecutive years, will become permanent property of that organization.

Last year's winners were Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Tau Delta. All three events are free and open to the public.

SGA Votes Favoring Repeal Of Ouster Act

A resolution favoring the repeal of the "Ouster Act," which permits the governor to remove high educational officials, was passed by SGA Monday night.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the Kentucky General Assembly before the presentation of the bill.

Pearce Addresses Journalism Class

John E. Pearce, former Kernel editor and now an associate editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Wednesday addressed a class in editorial writing in the Journalism department.

Pearce discussed the problems of editorial writing with the class which is taught by J. A. McCauley.

Discussions On Religion Close Today

Religious Emphasis Week closes today with classroom discussions highlighting the final day's activities.

This morning leaders will attend a breakfast and at noon the Rev. Charles M. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian church at the University of North Carolina, will speak at a faculty luncheon. Mrs. Warren Hastings, a Disciples of Christ teacher, will address the Dutch Lunch meeting in the Student Union building.

Tonight a dinner in honor of those who took part in the programs will close the week's activities.

The programs were sponsored by the Interfaith Council, of which Larry Fleisher is president. Purpose of the week was to stimulate student interest in religion in daily life.

At a forum Tuesday night, Dr. Jones said "it may well be that all this troubled world needs to set it straight is a good dose of morality."

He explained that "to be moral simply means to so behave as to be considered respectable by one's fellows. This does not involve a very high level of achievement in the art of living or any great nobility of character. To be moral and keep one's self popular with one's neighbors will never bring in the Kingdom of God which is a kingdom of peace and truth and righteousness."

He added that Christian morality has a depth that ordinary morality does not have and it often has a breadth and inclusiveness ordinary morality will oppose.

Monday night Bishop William T. Malloy of the Covington Diocese of the Catholic church told a forum audience that "in practically every age of society today it becomes increasingly evident that God has been banished from the deliberations of mankind."

"In fact, it is not such an uncommon thing in our day to hear the very idea of God ridiculed."

Discussing the international situation, Bishop Malloy asked "how far are we from peace?"

He said that in each successive international meeting the barriers of peace seem to rise more and more formidably and peace recedes farther away. He said that in none of these meetings did the leaders recognize the sovereignty of God and added that "it appears that modern nations have lost the fear of God."

Bishop Mulloy pointed out that in the United States more than one half the population has no knowledge of God.

The forum program opened with an address by Dr. Herriek B. Young, executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. Other speakers in the series included Bishop Mulloy, Dr. Jones, Kendall Weisner, a member of the Episcopal church, and Mrs. Hastings.

UK Fuel Crisis Averted, Student Cooperation Asked

A fuel crisis here was averted Monday when a shipment of coal arrived to supplement the University stockpile which E. B. Farris, chief engineer in the Division of Maintenance and Operations, said had dwindled to a two-days supply.

Mr. Farris said this shortage was caused by dependence on truck coal and as the roads were impassable at so meopoints it was impossible to get this supply. Between 9000 and 10,000 tons of coal are used each year at the University, he said.

Student co-operation was asked in an effort to conserve fuel. One precaution, Mr. Farris mentioned, is to turn radiators off instead of raising windows. Another is to see that all doors are kept closed. Where double doors are in classroom buildings, one of the doors has been locked to help keep the heat in. He

Sweater Swing Slated

A sweater swing will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the SUB ballroom. Bob Compton, chairman of the SUB house committee, has announced.

Two public Student Government Association hearings, one on forbidding the wearing of high school letter-sweaters on campus and one on bulletin board problems, will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Student Union building.

Both bills will be considered at the hearings by SGA committees for presentation to the SGA assembly.

The first bill, introduced by the athletic committee, would impose a penalty upon students wearing letter-sweaters from schools other than the University, and would be enforced by SGA and the "K" Club.

The bulletin board bill would require immediate removal of non-pertinent signs, and would fine rule violators and defacers of the new boards.

Both hearings are open to all students.

Mardi Gras To Be Event Before Lent

A campus Mardi Gras festival, closing with a semi-formal carnival dance at 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 7, in the Student Union Building, will be sponsored by the Newman Club the week before Lent.

Officials of the Newman Club have asked that campus sororities and fraternities take up the theme in a series of house celebrations the week before the dance.

Cabaret Style Planned

The affair, for which tickets will be on sale at the SUB ticket booth today for $1.00 each, will be cabaret style, with masks, noise-makers, and caps to be distributed during intermission. Costumes, although not essential, will be welcome, the sponsors announced.

Music will be furnished by the Kentucky Cavaliers.

The ball will feature the coronation of the Mardi Gras Queen, who will be selected from among representatives of the various sororities, women's dorms, and independents.

The independent candidate is Mary Lester.

The identity of the queen will remain a secret until the coronation. Prizes awarded to the queen and her attendants will be donated by local merchants.

J. W. Kilroy and Mary Ann McQuaid are co-chairmen of the committee in charge.

High School Letters To Be Forbidden?

Two public Student Government Association hearings, one on forbidding the wearing of high school letter-sweaters on campus and one on bulletin board problems, will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Student Union building.

Both bills will be considered at the hearings by SGA committees for presentation to the SGA assembly.

The first bill, introduced by the athletic committee, would impose a penalty upon students wearing letter-sweaters from schools other than the University, and would be enforced by SGA and the "K" Club.

The bulletin board bill would require immediate removal of non-pertinent signs, and would fine rule violators and defacers of the new boards.

Both hearings are open to all students.

Colds Chief Complaint

The Health Service said Thursday that colds and upper respiratory diseases are the principal complaints of students this week. During the past week 167 men and 65 women were treated for these ailments.

Lawyers Plan Special Term

A two weeks intersession between Spring and Summer terms will be offered in the College of Law. Students will not be allowed to carry more than two semester hours, the equivalent of three quarter hours, but it will enable students in some instances to graduate from three to six months sooner.

The session will be held from June 7 through June 19.

The intersession is necessary because, in order to meet the requirements of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky and the Association of American Law Schools, all quarters in the College of Law must be ten weeks in length. This year's summer session will only be eight weeks in length.

The intersession will also be offered in 1949, the college announced. Students planning to take the intersession both years may enroll in courses in Damages and Partnership, Quasi Contracts (Restitution) and Oil and Gas.

Vets Must Report

All veterans who plan to withdraw from the University at the end of the current quarter are asked to report to Room 204 in the Administration Building to fill out withdrawal forms before the quarter ends.

New Honorary Is Organized

A chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, national professional fraternity in geography, is being organized on the campus, according to Dr. Joseph B. Schwendeman, head of the Department of Geography. The initial pledge service for Sigma chapter will be held next Monday night at the home of Dr. Schwendeman.

The purpose of Gamma Theta Upsilon, according to Dr. Schwendeman, is to promote scholarship and graduate study in geography. A national fund is maintained by the fraternity for members who do graduate work.

Gamma Theta Upsilon was organized at Illinois State Normal School, Normal, Ill., in 1928.

Psychologists Invited To Hygiene Meeting

All university students, social workers, psychologists, and other professional persons are invited to a meeting of the Post-Graduate Institute in Psychosomatic Medicine and Mental Hygiene beginning Tuesday, Harold E. Wetzel, head of the Department of Social Work announced. The institute, which is sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service Mental Hygiene Division, will meet at the Public Health Service Hospital on Leestown Pike.

Office Needs Help

The Alumni Office, University phone 43, would appreciate a call from any member of the faculty who will be in the Detroit area during the month of February.

Nmad Is Shot At Sunrise, Committed Unforgiveable Sin

By Gil Mark

He's a psychology major and I'm his test case. He claims the only time I show good sense is when I accept a date with him. "After all," he says, "What normal, healthy American girl would refuse?"

I'll never forget the first time I saw him. He was walking across campus without any books. Like everyone else, I turned and stared as he passed. He stared back. "Where are your books, college man?" I asked pleasantly. "They were stolen," he replied. "How do you get along?" I persisted. "It isn't easy," he answered with a grin. And so we met. He with his 2.5 and me with my two points standing—thanks to English and sociology.

I can't name the exact moment I started to fall for him. Perhaps it was the day we sat in the Grill drinking in the atmosphere (they'd run out of cokes). I had the flu and lost my voice and he turned to me tenderly and said, "Shut Up!" One night we met in the library. He was reciting his history, "July 4, 1776—the first Fourth of July"—Jan. 19, 1948—the K.A.'s seceded from the Union."

I sat up. "Tell me," I said eagerly, "Did all the K.A.'s secede from the Union?"

"Well, there was one—" he began. He looked around quickly to see if anyone was listening. Assured that everybody was, he began.

"There was once a K.A. whose father fell over backwards to name him Nmad Eeknay. Nmad was born in New Jersey but he cleverly concealed the fact by drinking all of his meals out of a Dixie cup. Nmad was only seen out when the wind blew south. He sought classes in rooms with southern exposures. He went to classes with cotton in his ears. No one suspected him. On the night before Jan. 19, 1948, the K.A. house was alive with signs of battle. Each man was given an objective and one of Nmad's fraternity brothers sat on the couch with him. "Darling," he whispered to a sultry blonde, "Robert E. Lee surrendered. Why don't you?" Some of the men were practicing running up and down the stairs yelling "Charge!" and "Long Live John Irving!" Nmad's turn came. "Charge!" he began boldly. A silence fell over the room. Nmad turned Confederate gray. He had

SGA To Hold Special Election Next Tuesday

Two Amendments Pending Action Of Student Body

To allow the student body to vote on proposed amendments to the SGA constitution, a special election will be held Tuesday at one poll in the Student Union Building, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to a bill passed Monday by the Assembly.

One amendment provides for a representative in the Assembly from the College of Pharmacy in Louisville, raising the number of assemblymen to thirty. Claude Sprowls, SGA president, stated that a spokesman for the Pharmacy College has expressed a desire on the part of the students for representation, and their willingness to send someone to Lexington for each meeting of the Assembly.

A second amendment would remove the residence requirement on candidates for the Assembly from the graduate school. According to the Constitution, every candidate must have had at least two quarters residence at the University before he can become eligible for election. Since many students spend only three quarters in graduate school, the representatives frequently leave school after only one quarter in the Assembly.

Both amendments have been unanimously passed by the Assembly.

Founders Day Is Feb. 22-23

Principal speaker for University Founders Day activities, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 22-23, will be Dr. Raymond R. Paty, chancellor of the University system of Georgia. Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice-president, announced.

Dr. Paty, whose address is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, Feb. 23, in Memorial Hall, will speak on "Higher Education Takes Stock."

Classes will not be dismissed for the convocation, since attendance is optional with each class and instructor, Dr. Chamberlain said.

Presiding at the convocation will be President H. L. Donovan. Invocation will be given by Wendell Poundstone, vice-president of the YMCA, and benediction will be delivered by Rosemary Dummit, president of the YWCA.

Sunday's Founders Day events include a broadcast at 10:30 a.m. by station WHAS and an afternoon musicale by the Women's Glee Club at 4 p.m., followed by a reception and tea at 5 p.m. at the Student Union building.

Vets To Elect '48 Officers

Annual election of officers of the Veterans Club will be held at a meeting in the Student Union building at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 16, according to Darrell B. Hancock, retiring president of the Club.

Hancock said that the number of officers had been changed from six to eight by an amendment to the Club constitution. The move was designed, he said, to "streamline" the administration of the organization.

New officers to be elected include a president, executive vice-president, vice-presidents in charge of business, public relations, and membership, a treasurer, a recording secretary, and a corresponding secretary.

According to election plans adopted at the last club meeting, no individual nominations for any of the offices will be accepted. All nominations must be presented on a "slate" along with nominations for all other offices. The petitions for nomination must be signed by 10 club members, and must be presented to Dr. Lytle Croft, University personnel director, not later than Feb. 10.

No candidates for any of the offices have been filed, Hancock said, but he added he had "heard talk" of three or four candidates for president.

Hancock stated that he was not a candidate for reelection, nor is the present vice-president, Hoge Hockensmith, Jr. He added that he did not know the intentions of any other veteran now holding office in the Club.

Health Service Adds Doctors For Quarter

Two new doctors have been added to the staff of the University Health Service for duties during the Winter quarter. They are Dr. John Sprague and Dr. Sam Warren.

The doctors, who began their duties at the beginning of the quarter have been appointed on a monthly basis and the appointments are not permanent. Dr. J. S. Chambers, director of the University Health Service, said.

The students are being cared for much more quickly in the dispensary now than formerly, Dr. Chambers pointed out. "It has been bad, but there has been nothing we could do about it. I've been delighted how things have started off. I hope that it will continue," he stated.

Twelve Girls Chosen

Twelve University sorority women were selected this week by the Panhellenic Council to represent the University in the publication, Great Greeks on University Campuses.

Those chosen were Jeanne Asbury and Alice Jane Street, Alpha Delta Pi; Betty Ree Rhoads, Alpha Gamma Delta; Elizabeth Walters, Alpha Xi Delta; Helen Hutchcraft, Chi Omega; Rosemary Dummit, Delta Delta Delta; Frances T. Horlacher, Delta Zeta; Mary Hileary Bryant, Kappa Alpha Theta; Virginia Minter, Kappa Delta; Ridgely Park, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Anita Levy, Tau Alpha Pi, and Jean Kessler, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Honorary Fraternity Initiates Twelve Men

Twelve men have been initiated by Lamp and Cross, national honorary fraternity for senior men.

They are Virgil Pryor, J. Carlisle Myers, Charles Boggs, Morris Beebe, Richard Gillespie, Harry Miller, Bartley Greenwell, Bill Bixler, Russell Conrad, Hal Rucker, Darrell Hancock, and Johnny Crockett.

McKinley To Play

Ray McKinley and his orchestra will play at the Joyland Casino Tuesday night, John Irvin, Joyland's press agent, has announced.

McKinley, formerly with Glenn Miller's orchestra, played for a SUB dance here last year.

Independents Select Beauty Candidates

Four girls have been selected among 11 nominees as Independent beauty queen candidates.

The candidates are: Mary Lester, Pat Lawson, Suzanne Concannon, and Sandy Morgan.

Sororities To Begin Tournaments On Monday

Beginning Monday two games will be played daily Monday through Thursday for two weeks in the sorority basketball league.

Kappa Alpha Theta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Zeta and Alpha Xi Delta will play in Division I. Division II will be composed of Kappa Delta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Delta Delta and in Division III are Tau Alpha Pi, Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Chi Omega.

Party Politics

Once upon a time there was a student government organization composed of members who, at election time, threw party affiliations to the winds and devoted their entire interest and attention to the welfare of the students of the University.

They had an old fashioned way of nominating and electing assemblies. Not only did they select the nominees for their ability and willingness to serve but they even notified them that they were to be considered for election.

Like the dodo bird, this strange species has somehow disappeared and few traces of it are to be found here today at the University of Kentucky.

Last quarter two candidates were elected to the SGA assembly, were sworn in, attended two meetings, and resigned. As a result of their resignation and the dropping of other members for reasons of non-attendance, the assembly held an election Monday night to fill these vacancies.

A list of candidates to fill these vacancies was submitted to the members of the assembly by the deans of the colleges. Discussion of the names of the prospective candidates revealed that some of the men and women were known slightly and some not at all. Upon further discussion it was found that many of the candidates had not been approached as to their availability for office.

A suggestion by one party leader that the election be postponed for a week so that the candidates might be notified and their qualifications be studied was immediately attacked by a member of the opposing party who stated that the election results were a foregone conclusion because of the majority held by his party.

Upon backing by the majority of his party, a vote was taken and the motion to vote immediately upon the candidates was carried.

The election was then held and six assemblies were chosen from the list of candidates, some of whom were unknown to members of the assembly and the majority of whom had never been notified of their candidacy.

This editorial is not aimed at SGA or at the members of any particular party but at the members of both parties who have been guilty of this same attitude in the past and at the campus politicians who have completely lost sight of the valuable contribution which the two-party system has made to the principles of free government in this country.

The object of any party system is to place before the electorate capable, industrious candidates who are willing to serve the best interests of the community.

The fault of the present misuse of this system lies not just with the SGA assemblies concerned but also with the members of the student body whose lack of interest has led to this misuse.

The constitution of the Student Government Association provides that "all meetings of the Student Assembly shall be open to anyone in the University." These meetings are held every Monday night in the SUB.

If the student body would show enough interest to take advantage of the privilege of attending these meetings, the rise of student concern in campus affairs would pave the way for correct usage of the two-party system and for the shift of emphasis from party politics to genuine interest in the welfare of the students.

If correction cannot be accomplished by student interest or by action taken by the SGA assemblies themselves, the present misuse of the two-party system will and should inevitably result in the destruction of that system.

credit to himself, his university and his commonwealth. I take it you are advising those who become terrified at the mention of the term "non-segregation in education." I prefer to interpret your cryptic paragraph in that sense because the most far-sighted and rational people I know are those who think and act according to the criteria set down by the Constitution, the Bible, the Supreme Court and the Conscience of humanity.

I haven't read such a provocative editorial in the Kernel since the old days. Glad you have a policy.

CHARLES BOGGS

Congratulations for a clear statement "... Created Equal?" of the position of the Negro in American education. The consensus of Southern editorial opinion to which you referred indicates a growing awareness in the South of the abject failure to face the racial issue and deal with it squarely.

I can't help recalling that some of the most biting criticism of my country which I heard in Europe last summer had to do with the "Negro problem." Frankly, there were times when I was hard put to give reasons, excuses or explanations for a general condition which some foreign people have long regarded as wholly out of keeping with our Christian and democratic ideals. I don't know how much further we can go in compromising our political and ethical principles but I do think the day is past when thinking people can simply shrug at the question and beneath the reality of the problem to some future generation.

With regard to your last paragraph in that editorial: "And if there be a handful of hotheads, who are more noisy than numerous, let no one be misled and let no one conduct himself in a way to bring dis-

The Spice Of Life

By Amy Price and Helen Dorr

It would seem that Helen Bowman and Ralph Beard are back together again. We are glad to see it happen.

The mid-winter slump in social activities will soon be a thing of the past (that is, if the snow melts) with dozens of parties scheduled for Valentine's Day and the Mardi Gras dance coming up.

Tommy Underwood says that every time he and Patsy Allen want to know how they are getting along, all they have to do is look in the Kernel and find out. It isn't really that bad, now is it?

Since we said last week that half the girls on campus had crushes on boys they didn't even know, we hear that B. J. Jackson has found her dream man. There's only one thing wrong. He doesn't know it yet.

They say that Dixi Dunn is about to lose his pin to his home-town girl. She's Ruby Dixon from Paducah.

Pinned: Suzanne Hannans and Bill Gutermuth; Norma Jean Smith and Roy Stone; Rupert Stivers and Ellen Pierce (from Murray).

We heard a foul rumor that John Irvin had left for Honolulu but it turned out to be just a rumor. Just think how life would quiet down if Irvin left. No more publicity stunts for Joyland, no more free cigarettes and above all, no more threatened lawsuits over the stuff he tells us to put in this column.

Sue Allen received the Joyland treatment twice over the weekend. It didn't take newcomer Jackie Moon long to orient himself to life at the University. He's been dating Daisy Mae Weston Jayne.

John Marlowe and Gail Price did a fine job on last week's play in the acting class.

Pinned: Jackie Cawood and Wilbur Adams.

The Sigma Nus and the Pi Kaps are giving a dance together at Gen-try's, mainly to prove that fraternities can get along. Also, the Delta Chis are reported to owe the Lambda Chis a party over a bet on their basketball game.

Dick Hensley and Martha Fulton are engaged. It must be real love because she's knitting argyle socks for him.

Pats Hall's Jean Henry complains that she's been receiving a lot of the congratulations due to the other Jean Henry, who lives at the Chi O house.

Overheard (Jack Wayman speaking): I spend sixteen hours a week in class and twenty hours a week waiting for Jeanne Vance.

Item lifted from the McLean County Gazette: Hugh Glenn Hunt of Calhoun sold a hog over the week-end.

Clyde Spears seems to be quite fond of Pats Hall. They say that he spends all of his free time over there dating any one of three girls. Famous last words from Emily Parker: "We need a new scrapbook."

Roy Wallace has decided to get a crew cut to get Dick Womack out of his hair since Dick has been so successful in cutting Roy's throat lately.

The Triangles are cheering Ralph Mcracken has made his standing and will be initiated soon after for these many quarters.

Harold Hunt likes Louisville girls ever so much better than those from out-of-state (say Spartansburg, S.C.).

Alice King will spend this week-end at Vanderbilt.

Don Combs sent Evelyn Ewing a dozen red roses for her birthday.

Editor's Reply

In reference to the final "cryptic" paragraph in last week's editorial, and the letters concerning it, it should be noted that the term "hotheads" does not refer to persons who are opposed to the viewpoint expressed in the editorial but to those persons who might lead others in irrational acts as reprisal to any action which might be taken by the courts, by the state, or by the University.

Every man is entitled to his own viewpoint upon any question which might arise but none is entitled to take the law in his own hands and to attempt to lead others to follow those actions to which his instincts and beliefs lead him.

It is to those men who would defy all laws of common sense and decency to whom I refer as "hothead" who may mislead others.

In answer to Charles D. Wood's letter, I think that he is confusing educational and social equality.

His argument is illogical in the following ways: (1) The Indians were not so diminished by the coming of the white man and the spread of communicable venereal diseases but by the spread of contagious disease which wiped out entire villages and tribes in a matter of a few weeks or months. (2) If, in the section of your letter devoted

VA Makes Ruling

Veterans presently enrolled for study who discontinue their training under the G.I. Bill before they have exhausted their period of entitlement to training at government expense must obtain a "supplemental certificate of eligibility" from the VA before they re-enter training.

This "supplemental certificate of eligibility" indicates the amount of additional training to which the veteran is entitled at government expense after the amount of time previously used in training had been deducted.

Assemblymen Chosen

SGA elected six assemblymen Monday night to fill vacancies.

Phones Needed

An attempt is being made on the campus to obtain much-needed pay telephones for dormitories and barracks.

On the other hand, phones are being tampered with by members of the student body — slugs are being deposited, paper is stuffed into the coin slots, and machines are being "jimmied and tripped" in such a way that money is released and the University comptroller has been forced to pay from $35 to $40 each month to cover the losses on the pay phone receipts in the SUB and in the dormitories.

This condition certainly hinders the movement for installation of needed telephones and, according to Comptroller Frank D. Peterson, may result in the loss of the pay phones which the University has at present.

Mr. Jack Sorrelle, Editor
Kentucky Kernel

Dear Mr. Sorrelle:
I have been informed that I was one of the candidates voted upon by the Student Government Assembly at its session Monday night.

I sincerely appreciate the honor of having my name placed before the assembly for consideration.

Is it customary for an election to be held by the assembly without informing the candidate that he has been nominated and is to be considered? I did not even know that an election was to be held.

Very sincerely yours,
Z. S. DICKERSON, JR.

Editor, Kentucky Kernel:

I read with a great deal of interest your editorial, "Created Equal?" in the last issue of the Kernel. I hope that few students on the campus passed up the opportunity to reflect upon its full import.

The gist of the article appears to me to constitute an open invitation to the Negroes of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to attend the University, together with a sharp rebuke to "hotheads" who might oppose such a move. Because I firmly believe that a majority of students on this campus are not in accord with your views, I am forced to take issue.

A few months ago the editors of the Kernel saw fit to rally to the cause of a student about whom it was alleged that he adhered to "pseudo-communistic" beliefs. However commendable that may have been, you lose no opportunity to pounce upon those persons who may disagree with your views concerning Negroes, and brand them in advance as "hotheads" who are "more noisy than numerous." I believe the journalism textbooks will verify my belief that this is a strange anomaly for a newspaper to take in its editorial policy.

I have often wondered why journalists, particularly those of the age and experience of you who comprise the staff of the Kernel, insist upon believing that some sort of magic has transformed them into beings with a much higher power of rationalization than persons of similar age and experience.

I believe that the Kernel would call those persons "hotheads" who might well reason that the admission of Negroes to professional school at UK would be, on its face, harmless. However, those persons might see in such an event one of a series of concessions which can never be regained. I cannot visualize any sane white person who does not consider that the line between black and white must, unfortunately, be drawn somewhere short of intermarriage and absolute social equality. I can see where persons might reasonably differ as to the point where that line should be drawn. Apparently the author of the editorial fails to recognize any excuse for differing with his views.

Some four hundred years ago, the American Indian reigned over the land which is now the United States, free from oppression from any source. Then he started conceding to the white man—conceding harmlessly, he thought, to avoid trouble. He sold Manhattan Island for twenty-four dollars. Thereafter came a long series of "harmless" concessions. Finally, open war followed. A month or two ago, our American senses of social conscience were aroused when we learned that many members of the once-proud Indian race, now almost extinct, were doomed to die this winter from starvation in the miserable hovels in which they had been pushed.

Many others, according to Government reports, will die from venereal diseases—diseases which were brought by white men and given in return for "harmless" concessions. It may be said when the day for final determination of the relatively minor (on its face) point raised in your editorial comes I shall be forced to rally to the hue and cry of the "hotheads." It may be that I can be convinced that I should do otherwise. But if you seek to convince me, it will have to be upon some basis other than such glittering generalities as the Preamble, Democracy, or the Fourteenth Amendment. I cannot be thrilled into submission by the glorious words of our Founding Fathers—many of whom kept and enjoyed Negro slaves themselves.

Cordially,
CHARLES D. WOOD

Editor, Kentucky Kernel:

Congratulations for a clear statement "... Created Equal?" of the position of the Negro in American education. The consensus of Southern editorial opinion to which you referred indicates a growing awareness in the South of the abject failure to face the racial issue and deal with it squarely.

I can't help recalling that some of the most biting criticism of my country which I heard in Europe last summer had to do with the "Negro problem." Frankly, there were times when I was hard put to give reasons, excuses or explanations for a general condition which some foreign people have long regarded as wholly out of keeping with our Christian and democratic ideals. I don't know how much further we can go in compromising our political and ethical principles but I do think the day is past when thinking people can simply shrug at the question and beneath the reality of the problem to some future generation.

With regard to your last paragraph in that editorial: "And if there be a handful of hotheads, who are more noisy than numerous, let no one be misled and let no one conduct himself in a way to bring dis-

More than meets the eye...

One look and you'd say that a great deal of work lies ahead before this new telephone central office is completed. That's true. But already, much of the job is done!

For months telephone men have been hard at work—in offices and in the field. One group has carefully studied business and population trends and has forecast the telephone needs of the community for years to come. Another has determined the amount and types of equipment that will best meet these needs. Still others have found ways to make this new equipment a part of our world-wide communications network.

At our Western Electric plants the telephone equipment—the switchboards, frames and switching mechanisms, the cable, wire and relays—has been scheduled and is already being manufactured.

All this and more before the ground was broken!

The telephone business is a constantly expanding business in which thousands of college men are finding interesting and rewarding careers. There's a future in telephony.

Clean Plate Drive Planned By Red Cross

Courses for housemothers and young married couples are among the classes being planned by the local Red Cross in connection with its Clean Plate program.

If the housemothers will request the class as a group, then one set of interests can be catered to. Mrs. W. D. Valleau, nutrition chairman of the Red Cross chapter, stated this week.

Mrs. Eleanor S. Clay, local Red Cross nutrition director, will be the teacher for a series of six classes of two hours each given under the general title of Food Fashions. Another 12 hour course in Food Cost Budgets of more interest to housemothers will also be offered. The Food Fashions course includes Slim-nastics. The Lady Who Lives Alone and Lakes II. Dinner for Two, Feeding the Teens, Twice Served Foods, a course on left-overs, and How To Be Scrap-Happy. The Food Cost Budgets course will include instruction on how and where to substitute foods.

The Clean Plate program, which is directing its efforts toward wasting less food, began last Sunday. Already, Mrs. Valleau said, it has gotten to be a big program and is growing rapidly. The drive will close March 1.

How To Enroll

Ten or 12 students will be needed for each of the classes. Any interested person can enroll by calling the Red Cross office—4505-Y—and leaving his name and the class in which he is interested. Any courses will be offered that are sufficiently in demand.

The course for couples will meet at night to prepare a meal and hear a lecture on food costs and preparation. Mrs. Valleau emphasized that there would be no cleaning up afterwards. The class will prorate the cost of the food, which will be prepared in the most economical way.

Cooperation

Local restaurants and luncheon clubs are cooperating in the Clean Plate drive. Mrs. Valleau said, Canary Cottage, the Golden Horseshoe, and the Phoenix and Lafayette hotels are among the eating places in Lexington measuring their scraps to see if there is an appreciable decrease during the drive. Mrs. James Rich is in charge of checking the restaurants. Mrs. Valleau stated that most of the luncheon clubs are cooperating 100 percent. The high schools and grade schools are also hearing about the Clean Plate program.

Radio talks on how to conserve food and save leftovers are being planned for all Lexington radio stations and already the issue has been

Morrison Made Acting Head

Dr. H. B. Morrison, associate professor of dairying, has been named acting head of the Dairy Section of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, according to Dean Thomas P. Cooper.

Dr. Morrison came to the University in 1930 from the University of Minnesota. He received the Ph.D. degree from Iowa State College.

In making the announcement, Dean Cooper emphasized the importance of dairying as an outstanding feature of Kentucky agriculture.

"The great growth in dairying is putting increased demands on extension and research work in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the Experiment Station," he said. "The number of students majoring in dairying now is the greatest in the history of the college, and probably will increase further as dairying continues to develop in the state."

Martin Lectures In Detroit Prof. James W. Martin, director of the Bureau of Business Research, lectured to a group of students at Wayne University in Detroit this week.

Tutthill Appointed To Board Dr. R. L. Tutthill, associate professor of geography, has been appointed to the executive board of Social Education, the official journal of the National Council of Social Studies. The council is a branch of the Social Studies Department.

State Schools
Face Crisis,
Says Report

The situation, now faced in the elementary schools of Kentucky is so critical that "the chances that a six-year old child in Kentucky will graduate from high school are only about one in six, and, on the average, not more than one-half of those children entering the first grade will even complete the eighth grade," a report of the State Committee on Elementary Education has declared.

Dr. Charles R. Spain, director of the University Bureau of School Service and chairman of the committee, explained that "the general deterioration of public education in the nation has been arrested during the past year. In the elementary schools of Kentucky, however, a continuing crisis is rapidly becoming acute with no current indication of bold attempts to meet this crisis."

He said the Kentucky Committee on Elementary Education is composed of leading educators from school districts and educational institutions throughout the state and has as its aims the improvement of elementary schools. Part of a cooperative study being made by 12 Southern states, the investigation of elementary education is one of the first of its kind undertaken on a regional or national scale.

"In most communities, interest has been focused on the high school and corresponding efforts to improve the quality of the secondary schools," Dr. Spain continued in the report on the crisis facing elementary schools in Kentucky. "As a consequence, elementary schools, the basic foundation of all public and higher education, have become progressively more neglected."

In illustration of the critical situation, the committee chairman cited the following factors and conditions:

"1. The number of emergency teachers in elementary schools is still increasing, whereas the past school year showed a decline for such teachers in high schools. During the past school year there were approximately 4900 teachers in Kentucky elementary schools with emergency certificates and about 300 high school teachers so certificated."

"2. The percentage of college students in teacher education programs who plan to become elementary teachers has declined steadily since 1940. Although there are approximately two and one-half times as many elementary teaching positions in Kentucky schools as secondary, more college students plan to become high school teachers than plan to be elementary teachers."

"3. The teachers load tends to be much heavier in most Kentucky elementary schools than in high schools. For example, during the past year the average number of pupils per teacher was about 32 in the elementary schools and about 22 in the high school. These figures do not in all instances reveal the true discrepancy in teacher load since elementary teachers generally must assume responsibility for a group of children for the entire day."

"4. Almost one-third of all pupils who enter the first grade each year are 'failed' during their first year of school. This rate of retention gradually decreases to a negligible percentage in the twelfth grade. Undoubtedly the overloading of elementary

For Students of Science and EngineeringWeaving of nylon yarn required the development of special sizing materialProblem solved by Du Pont men with many types of training

Each new product that is created in the laboratory seems to bring with it a new set of problems to challenge the ingenuity of the scientist. An outstanding instance of this is nylon. To make practicable the weaving of nylon into textiles, it was necessary to develop an entirely new slasher sizing material—a coating to make the filaments adhere to one another, protect the yarn from abrasion and keep it clean. Sizes used on other fibers proved unsatisfactory on nylon, because of its unique chemical composition.

Five candidates were exhaustively tested by Du Pont men. Best by far proved to be polymethacrylic acid (PMA), $[\text{CH}_2-\text{C}(\text{CH}_3)(\text{COOH})]$, possibly because its acidic nature is favorable to hydrogen bonding with the polyamide structure of nylon.

Many technical problems involved

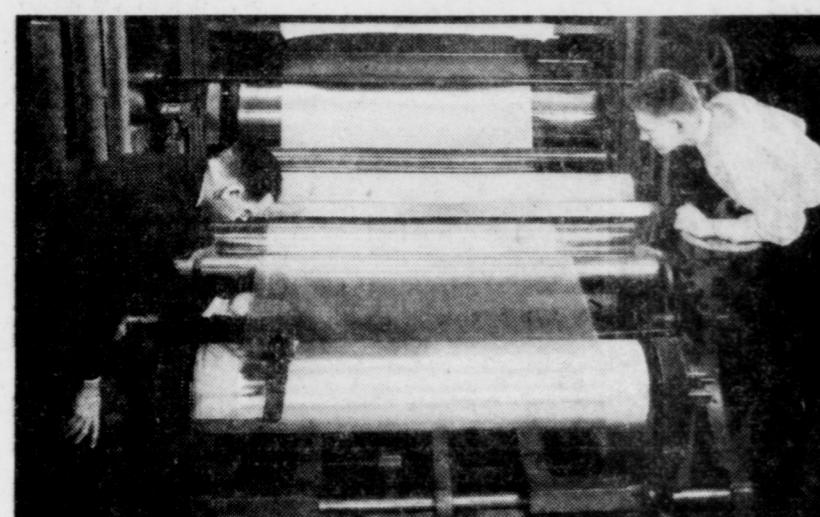

(1) After weaving, sizing has to be removed by water. PMA dissolves in water readily up to 10% at room temperatures, but precipitates between 70-80°C. A way had to be found to prevent precipitation at the normal scouring temperature of 100°C.

(2) PMA sets to a brittle, glassy material on fibers, giving a harsh wrap. Suitable plasticizers such as sulfonated vegetable and mineral oils, glycols and other polyhydric alcohols had to be found to correct this condition and permit stretching and flexing of the yarn without film impairment.

(3) Good dispersing agents were necessary so that the powdered PMA would not agglomerate as it dissolved in the sizing bath.

G. W. Fassett, B.S. in Chemistry, Augustana '36, and W. A. Franta, M.S. in Chemical Engineering, North Dakota '34, inspect woven fabric made from PMA sized nylon warp in Du Pont Experimental Weaving Laboratory.

Speeders Warned

Campus police Thursday pointed out that the automobile speed limit on campus is 18 miles an hour as the Student Government Association and the University administrative staff announced plans to join with police in reducing speeding on campus streets.

Police Chief Scudder Pierson said that no accidents caused by speeding have been reported but warned the danger is always present, especially during the winter months when driveways are slick. All persons apprehended for speeding will be taken immediately to one of the deans for disciplinary action, Chief Pierson said.

Claude Sprowles, president of SGA, announced Harry Miller had been appointed chairman of a committee to study campus traffic problems. Sprowles said SGA could adopt rules providing for disciplinary action against persons found guilty of speeding.

Other members of the committee are Katherine Barnett, George Freas, Betty Ree Rhodes, and Jack Sorrelle.

Chief Pierson urged that drivers be more cautious at the turn in the drive between the Home Economics and Biological Sciences buildings, a place he called "an especially dangerous spot."

Campus traffic rules state that drivers of vehicles must respect the rights of pedestrians on the campus drives. Chief Pierson said that pedestrians have the right-of-way

(4) Optimum concentrations of PMA and the various plasticizers had to be determined, and application temperatures worked out for the different types of fabrics (satins, twills, taffetas, etc.) to be sized.

The basic reactions involved in making methacrylic acid monomer are straightforward:

But several technical difficulties in the manufacture of the polymer had to be overcome:

(1) The distillation of the monomer had to be controlled carefully to keep it from polymerizing in the still head.

(2) The monomer must be obtained free of any color-forming impurities that might cause permanent discoloration of the fabric by the final polymer solution.

(3) Polymerization of the monomer must be carefully regulated to get reproducible results and constant molecular weight. This is important because the molecular weight of the PMA determines the viscosity of the size.

(4) Drying the polymer presented unusual difficulties. A special study was made to find an economical drying process that would give a uniform, finely divided product adapted to rapid solution.

Credit for the development of PMA textile sizing, is shared by Du Pont men with many types of training—chemists, physicists, chemical engineers and textile experts, as well as the technical service men who worked in close cooperation with leading textile manufacturers during commercial trials.

Things are thinning out over at Alumni gymnasium as far as the Intramural basketball tournament is concerned. With the three-quarter mark passed in the round-robin tourney, it is found that only four fraternities quintets of the original 19 entered are unbeaten.

In the independent bracket of 23 starters there are several all-winners, but this is more or less due to the fact that games have had to be cancelled several nights because the gym was in use.

Fraternities boasting a clean slate include Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Delta Theta in the first division, Sigma Chi in the second division, and the SAE's in the third section.

Lambda Chi Alpha remained undefeated by virtue of victories over the Phi Taus 35-23, AGR's 23-12 and the Delta Chi's 19-17. Also in the first section with three consecutive wins are the Phi Deltas who have defeated the Sigma Nu's 21-15, Phi Taus 34-13, and the AGR's 24-11.

The undefeated Sigma Chi's, who lead the second division, claim triumphs over the Sig Ep's 39-30, PKA's 26-14, and Phi Sigs 22-21.

In the third section, the SAE's are pacing the pack with three wins, having beaten the KA's 20-16, the Triangles 28-19, and the ATO's 28-22.

Bill McCubbin, intramural director, reports that plans are being made to hold the finals of the basketball elimination tournament as a preliminary game to the Kentucky-Georgia Tech tilt which is scheduled for February 21.

As far as it's possible, McCubbin says, the game will be of regular length.

Serini Signs To Play Pro Ball For Bears

Wash Serini, for four years an outstanding football lineman, will play next season with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League, according to word received here upon his return from the Windy City.

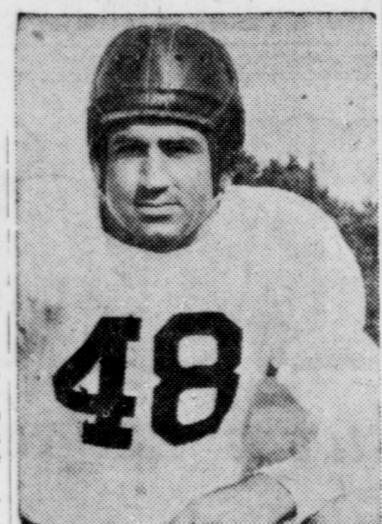

Reportedly under observation throughout the latter part of the 1947 campaign, Serini had consulted with officials of another club several days earlier, but had failed to reach a decision. A weekend conference with Bear President George Halas, resulted in his signing for an undisclosed figure.

The 215-pound, all-SEC tackle from Tuckahoe, New York, came to Kentucky in 1944, and in the ensuing four seasons saw action in 40 consecutive games with the Cats, a feat that probably earns him the school record.

During his four years as a mainstay in the Big Blue forward wall, Serini played under three different head coaches, all of whom are still at UK, serving in one capacity or the other. His first gridiron tutor, Ab Kirwan, now serves as Dean of Men, while Bernie Shively, coach during Wash's sophomore year, is the present athletic director. Paul Bryant, his third and last coach looks like he will stick around for a few years to come, though.

Wash set something of a record in the annual North-South football rivalry by appearing in the Rebel lineup four years in succession.

Throughout the past year Serini's line grew more savage as the season progressed, reaching a peak in the aforementioned North-South game. Elected captain of the Southern squad during practice, Wash blocked two Northern punts, each resulting in a touchdown for the South. For his outstanding performance in that game he was voted most valuable lineman for the South.

Always a favorite with the press, the fans and his teammates, Wash was voted the "most popular man on the campus" last year. The big, 25-year-old ex-Marine will graduate in March.

Cats Demonstrate Ability In Winning 17th, 70-43

By Kent Hollingsworth

"The weather outside was frightful, and the fire—of the Wildcats—was so delightful" last Saturday night when the Wildcats purred to an easy victory over the Bearcats of Cincinnati, by a score of 70-43.

Kentucky scored 15 quick points, 6 of them by Cliff Barker, before Cincinnati's Ralph Richter could connect on a field goal. Then a Bearcat fan must have opened a door for the Wildcats cooled off. Bad passing and erratic floor play followed but Kentucky still had a comfortable margin at the half, 38-20.

Jack Laub, 6'3" Bearcat guard, led all scorers for the night with 16 points, 10 of them scored on long shots from far out.

Big Al Groza played an outstanding game for Kentucky, hogging all the rebounds from 6'7" Bill Westfield, Cincy pivot man, and racking up 10 points himself.

Joe Holland, all conference forward last year, replaced Groza and scored 4 points at the pivot, and then switched over to his old forward position, where he scored 6 more, to bring his total for the evening's workout up to 10.

Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins, working well on the fast break together, got 11 markers each. The scoring was almost evenly distributed.

Cincinnati's leading scorer and All-Mid-America Conference Guard, Al Rubins, made the trip but was unable to dress because of a neck injury.

Club Members Hear Talk By Jacob John, Student From India

"At first I thought it was ashes from a burning building," Jacob John, a native of India and graduate student in chemistry, said in a talk to the customs group of the Cosmopolitan Club Friday during which he described the first falling snow he has seen.

John said that he had often heard about the whiteness of snow, but had never seen it. He thought it was really beautiful, but cold.

This fact was included in his talk about the customs, political situation, and the future of India, in which he emphasized that, in his opinion, the rival religious factions in India would be united within a very few years.

Foreign students at Transylvania College may be allowed full membership in the club under provisions of a new constitution, according to Joel Ungerleider, president.

The group, which is composed of all foreign students here and an equal number of American students, has voted to revise the present constitution and has appointed a committee for this purpose. Alejandro Capablanca is chairman of the committee.

Many Good Prospects Still Not Out For Track --- Seaton

Nearly two months remain before Kentucky's Whizz-Cats, as they shall be called henceforth, open their 1948 track campaign, but already feverish preparations are under way at Alumni gym in an effort to make their debut a successful and victorious one.

Approximately 65 boys, most of whom are inexperienced, have answered Coach Don Seaton's call for track prospects, but the cinder sport mentor stated that this total was only slightly more than half the desired number. Men are still needed for every event.

Coach Seaton ventured forth the belief that many talented boys had failed to report because they believed track to be another sport favoring only those boys attending school on athletic scholarships. Although numerous men from the scholarship sports have reported for track, they will be treated exactly as the non-scholarship athletes.

He also pointed out that a boy does not have to be an athlete to be a good track man. Several of the finest exponents of the cinder sport discovered their ability only by accident. Seaton said this was true of many boys, who definitely have the ability, but have never had the opportunity to develop it. For that reason Seaton wants anyone with two legs to try out, just in case some hidden talent might be found lying around waiting to be developed. He pointed out that no one would be dropped from the squad through lack of ability, but only through insubordination.

Foremost among Seaton's worries at present are numerous boys who do not attend practice regularly. Several of these boys have shown signs of ability in the few times they have been out.

Dashmen, hurdlers, and fieldmen, only men who will attend the first meet March 27 at Purdue, will continue practicing every Saturday afternoon, from one to four.

DePaul And Notre Dame Furnish Little Time For Wildcats To Grab Breath This Week-End

by Tom Diskin

The wandering Wildcats of Kentucky leave today for a most crucial road trip, traveling to Chicago for a game with DePaul on Saturday night, then to South Bend, Ind., to meet the Notre Dame quintet, and finally down to Tuscaloosa where they will take on the Crimson Tide of Alabama on Thursday.

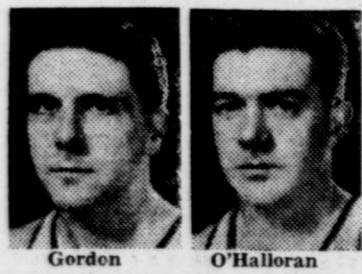

All three teams are lying in waiting for the famed felines from Kentucky in hopes of upsetting the nation's No. 1 basketball team. If the Rupp Raiders can sweep all three contests, they will greatly increase their chances of finishing the regular season with only one defeat. UK's Zip Kids have 17 wins for this campaign with a one-point defeat by Temple as their only blemish.

DePaul May Be Tough

The Blue Demons of DePaul are hoping to repeat their trick of last year, when after losing badly to UK in the first game in Louisville, they later upset our 171 Kaintuckians in Chicago, 53-47. The stage is set for a repetition of last season, as the UK Kats trounced DePaul, 74-50, last December 10th in the Falls City in rather easy fashion. Now it is their turn to win—they believe! Coach Adolph Rupp and his charges are determined not to let the Demons turn the same surprising prank on them again.

The Demons showed power last week in trimming Michigan State, 52-42, in Chicago Stadium, the scene of the Saturday game. Over 18,000 are expected to witness the battle, which will be part of a double-header. In the other game, Loyola of Chicago goes against Oklahoma A. & M., the latter team having played DePaul last night.

The probable starting lineup for DePaul will be Ed Mikan, center; Ed Kachan and Andy Federlino at forwards; with George Leddy and Charles Allen at the guard positions. Gordon Gillespie, a six-foot, three junior of Kelynn Park, Ill., will see plenty of action.

Six-foot, nine inch Ed Mikan, who pumped in 16 markers against the MSC Spartans last week, was held to only four points last December by the Wildcats. However, he will be harder to stop at Chicago stadium. Mikan, a senior, is the brother of George, former DePaul great who scored 558 points in 24 games during the 1944-45 campaign.

Another dangerous scorer is Ed "Whitey" Kachan, who took the leading role in last season's Kentucky upset by playing superb ball. He is six-foot, two and scored 210 points last year in 25 games. Last Saturday he flipped in 15 markers for Ray Meyer's quintet against Brannum and Co.

Notre Dame Hot For Revenge

Although the Fightin' Irish have not had an outstanding cage record for this season, they are expected to be at their peak Monday, February 2, when they take on the Cats before an all student crowd at the ND gym.

The Hoosiers make no bones about it. They have been waiting exactly 12 months to get revenge for the 60-30 defeat given them by UK last February in the Louisville Armory. In a recent issue of a national sports magazine featuring a story of Kevin O'Shea, brilliant Irish guard, the following item appeared: "The big game on the ND schedule, the one Kevin and the boys have been looking forward to all year is the invasion of Kentucky, who poured it on the Irish 60-30, last year . . . that's a hang-over the gang at South Bend wants to erase."

Notre Dame, who has been hot and cold this season, warmed up long enough to whip DePaul 52-46, last January 10th in South Bend. This was the Irishmen's 37th straight home-floor victory. They will be after No. 38 against the Cats.

Notre Dame, with a record this year of 8-4, is led by All-American O'Shea, who scored 210 points in 22 games last year. "Comet" O'Shea, a sophomore, promises to become one of the greatest cagers in ND history, providing his tricky knees hold up. He stands six-feet, two, hails from San Francisco, and is an uncanny one-handed shot.

Other starters will probably be John Foley, a six-foot, five sophomore from Worcester, Mass., and guard Paul Gordon, the Irish's top defensive star and playmaker. Gordon, a junior from Baltimore, Md., stands six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. At the forward positions, Leo Barnhorst, a six-foot, four athlete, and Chicago-born Jim O'Halloran, a five-foot, eleven junior will get the starting nod, unless a sudden switch is made by Coach Moose Krause.

Foley has replaced Johnny Brennan, last season's high scorer for ND with 288 points, at the pivot position after the latter broke his arm early in the season. Foley will be no push-over for he is said to be the most improved player on the ND squad. Against Mikan, the six-foot, five inch center dumped in eight field goals to take high honors for the Indiana five.

Barnhorst, who comes from Indianapolis, tossed in 205 points last year. Other players certain to get into the fracas are Dick Kluck, a forward, John Hiller of East Bernstadt, Ky., who plays either guard or forward, and Frank Kaufman, of Chicago, a six-foot, two guard.

Alabama Might Surprise

The Crimson Tide hoopers, slow to get started this season, may have found themselves last week as they slaughtered Vanderbilt 60-31, to rack up their eighth win of the year. Last night 'Bama played Mississippi State and will take on Georgia Tech Saturday in pre-Kentucky contests.

Fighting to overcome the loss of Giant Jim Homer, last season's leading scorer, the Bama basketballers have had to depend on inexperienced replacements.

Eugene Palmer, a six-foot, four sophomore from Birmingham, has taken over the pivot slot. The first string forwards are Carl Shaeffer, a six-foot, three-inch Hoosier, who scored 157 markers in 21 games last year to finish second in team scoring, and freshman Crumpler, who has improved with each game although still lacking polish. The guards to start Thursday against UK down in Tuscaloosa are likely to be Dyson Hamner, a five-foot, nine speedster from Selma Ala., and J. F. Sharp, a senior from Birmingham who scored 134 tallies in last season's games for the Tide.

Top reserves are Rebel Steiner, star of the Bama eleven, Hayden Riley, a fair set shot, and Billy Dean, second-string center who stands six foot three and hails from Montgomery, Ala.

This is the first meeting of the two teams for this campaign. UK's all-time record against the Red Elephants is 25 wins against 7 losses.

Billiards Show Slated

An exhibition will be given today by Willie Mesonli, former world's pocket billiards champion, in the SUB billiards room, according to Tom Underwood, chairman of the SUB tournament committee. Shows are scheduled at 11 a.m., 3 p.m., and 7 p.m.

Cat Clippings

By Tom Diskin

DePaul University of Chicago, whom the Kentucky Wildcats play tomorrow night in the Windy City, is the largest Catholic university in the country with an enrollment of 12,000 students. The Illinois institution is divided into two parts, having the Arts and Sciences college located on the North Side, and most of the other colleges in their 17-story building in the famed Chicago "Loop." DePaul was chartered in 1898 as St. Vincent's College with an enrollment of only 69. The name was changed to DePaul in 1907.

The Wildcat's foe on Monday night is Notre Dame University of South Bend, Indiana, which was founded in 1842 and now has an enrollment of 4,767 men students.

Incidentally the University of Cincinnati, beaten by Lexington Lynxes last Saturday, 70-43, is the largest municipal university in the nation, having a total of 17,500 students.

Bob Brannum, former UK basketball star, is almost certain to break the Michigan State individual season scoring record of 251 points established in 1945-46 by forward Sam Fortino. "Bruising Bob," who has been averaging over 17 points per game, flipped in a total of 19 markers against DePaul's Ed Mikan last

ND's Coach Krause

Saturday in the Chicago stadium to lead both teams in individual scoring. He was elected captain of the Spartan squad after the third game of the 1947-48 season and is claimed to be the "hottest cager seen on the Spartan court in a decade."

Alabama's basketball coach is 32-year-old Floyd Burdette, who is a native of Martin, Tenn., and a former All-SIAA forward for Murray State in 1936-37.

Following his graduation from Murray in 1938, Burdette entered Oklahoma A. & M. where he aided Coach Hank Iba tutor the Aggie basketballers. He later went into the Army Air Forces and in 1943 piloted the Randolph Field, San Antonio, Texas) basketballers to the national all-service championship.

Then in 1944, the giant Tennessean returned to Oklahoma A. & M. where he played on the Aggie quintet which went to the National Invitational tourney and was defeated by the UK Wildcats, 45-29, in the consolation game of the meet. During that season, Burdette finished second in scoring for the Cowpokes behind All-American Bob Kurland, A. & M.'s great seven-foot center.

Notre Dame's head cage mentor, Edward (Moose) Krause also had a colorful athletic career in his younger days. He was a four-sport star at De LaSalle High in Chicago.

In 1930 Krause went to Notre Dame where he distinguished himself in football, basketball and track. On the gridiron, "Moose" held the regular tackle position for three straight years and earned All-American honors.

At basketball, the Chicago-born athlete broke ND's previous records for points scored in one game, in a single season and in three seasons, making All-American at center in all three of his years on the varsity.

Krause formerly coached at St. Mary's of Winona, Minn., and Holy Cross of Worcester, Mass., before returning to Notre Dame in 1942. Two years later he entered the Marines as a lieutenant and served in the Solomons and the Philippines during the war.

Last year, his Fightin' Irish five won 20 and lost four. One of the losses was a 60-30 defeat by Kentucky in Louisville—the second worst beating ever inflicted upon a Notre Dame basketball team.

Introducing . . . Cliff Barker, Magician

by Stan Schill

Clifford Barker, the Houdini of the Hoops, Banisher of Basketball, and Super Magician with the spheroid, is currently appearing throughout the country in the company of Rupp's Rambunctious Ramblers.

Cliff is one boy who would be a success on a vaudeville stage. The way he handles a ball is enough to make any rival player's hair stand on end.

When Barker gets the ball, you can never be absolutely sure that it won't come flying out one of his ears. Passing him the pellet is like throwing it into the atomic curtain. From the time it reaches his hands until it appears somewhere else on the court, or in the basket, it's just gone.

This six-foot, one-inch junior's skill with a ball is no accident. He grew up in Yorktown, Ind., one of America's leading basketball hotbeds.

Before entering the air force, Barker put in a successful season with the Wildcats, and 16 months in a German prison camp doesn't seem to have affected his ability at all. If anything, he's improved.

One of the older members of the team—he is 26—Cliff has turned out to be 165 pounds of basketball mysticism.

As a passer and a dribbler, Barker is one of the cleverest. He can pass the ball backwards better than most men can throw it forward.

Cliff fits in perfectly with Adolph Rupp's conglomeration of roundball trappers. He's a born showman, if there is such a thing, and a hit with any crowd.

Seldom outshined by his teammates, Cliff is a lesser-known star on an already star-studded squad. Only the fame of his fellow Wildcats, individually and collectively, have kept this Cat in the background as far as press notices are concerned. One thing sure, however, is that a man capable of holding down a first string forward berth with Rupp's Raiders, must have something especially extra on the ball.

We would advise some of the sportswriters around the nation to keep their eyes on Kentucky's number 23.

Cliff is an experienced, hard working, basketball magician, who knows how to exploit the fast break effectively. This boy is one basketball player who really knows how to play basketball.

Organizations which hold meetings in the Student Union Building may receive their mail in boxes at the building if they wish, according to Miss Mackie Rasdall, Union director. Presidents of the groups, however, must apply for boxes in the director's office before next Friday.
